

1st Workshop on Kantian Perspectives on Social Irrationality

In relation to which ends and values should social rational be assessed in a Kantian perspective?

DAAD-Probral meeting in Vechta, building Q, room Q-112

I) Dimensions of Kantian rationality

Monday August 22:

9:30-9:45: Jean-Christophe Merle: The relationship between action rationality and systemic rationality, and the relationship between their respective irrationality.

9:45-10:30: discussion

10:30-11:45: coffee break

11:45-12:30: Frank Rettweiler: The concept of the highest good in Kant's Anthropology and in the Critique of Practical Reason.

12:30-13:15: discussion

13:15-14:30: lunch break

14:30-15:15: Sulamith Weber: The progress of reason as an end of social rationality in Kant?

15:15-16:00: discussion

16:00-16:15: coffee break

16:15-17:00: Joel Thiago Klein: The concept of social irrationality in Kant's philosophy.

17:00-17:45: discussion

II) Dimensions of irrationality in Kant

Tuesday, August 23:

9:30-9:45: Cristina Foroni Consani: Revisiting the Kantian legacy in Habermas: the philosophical project of modernity in relation to decolonial critiques.

9:45-10:30: discussion

10:30-11:45: Coffee break

11:45-12:30: Anna Szyrwińska-Hörig: The concept of insociable motives in Kant and its history

(videoconference)

12:30-13:15: discussion

13:15-14:30: lunch break

14:30-17:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

Wednesday, August 24:

9:30-12:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

14:30-17:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

Friday, August 26:

9:30-12:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

12:30: lunch together

13:15-14:30: discussion lunch break

14:30-17:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

Thursday, August 25:

9:30-12:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

14:30-17:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

Friday, August 26:

9:30-12:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

12:30: lunch together

[Friday afternoon: organizational meeting between Joel and Jean-Christophe]

Monday, August 30:

9:30-12:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation

12:30: lunch together

14:30-17:30 (with coffee break) Text interpretation